GIVE THEIR SIDE OF CONTROVERSY

Women Who Now Believe Play-ground Will Not be Big Success State Their Reasons.

MAIN ONE IS LACK OF WATER

They Feel That in Few Years Support May Not be Substantial Enough to Justify Expense.

Women headed by Mrs. A. L. Stewart who have withdrawn from the organization effected to establish and manage public playgrounds for children in the city park because they believe the grounds will not be a success without sufficient water today gave out a statement citing their reasons for retiring from an active place in the organization. Mrs. Stewart was first appointed playground commissioner, but declined the appointment for reasons already mentioned. The statement follows:

"After we looked into the legal phases of the proposition and learned that a playground established outside the city limits could not be governed by either agency defined in the late playground law, we gave up the idea of the gun club grounds at once.

"The only place then to put the playground is in the city park. No one now thinks anything else. But for several reasons, mainly the lack of sufficient water, the city park can not be so equipped as to meet the wants of all the children of playground age. Therefore the number who attend will drop off just as soon as the novelty of the playground wears away.

"For this reason there is danger that in a few years the support may not be substantial enough to justify this heavy outlay for equipment and the heavy expense that will have to be met each year for supervision. Proper supervision will cost in the neighborhood of $100 a month for the summer months.

"If, in a city no larger than Rushville, all the children can not be accommodated in one place, then there is a question as to whether such a city should have a playground.

"This is the reason why many of us who first agitated the playground now think it is impracticable; why we advised, before the subscriptions were collected, that, if not given up entirely, it should at least rest until next summer when we will have had more time for the deliberation an expensive proposition like this should receive."

Wholesomeness of Chautauqua Makes It Something to Remember

The Chamber of Commerce today gave out a statement touching on the Rush county chautauqua as well as those at Milroy and Carthage. The values of the summer assembly are elaborated and compliment is paid the officers of the Rush county chautauqua for their public spirit in making such an institution possible. The statement is appended:

Rushville is fortunate in having a strong and well managed Chautauqua. With Milroy and Carthage benefitting from similar institutions, there are few counties in the country as well equipped for this popular means of general education. There is no one in our community, unless he be blind, deaf, and dumb, who should not take advantage of such an opportunity, and who would not

MANY NAMES ON PETITIONS

Ohio Suffrage Workers Get 150,000 Signatures

(By United Press.)
Columbus, O., July 24.—Ohio suffrage leaders may distance their co-workers in neighboring states if monster petitions they are preparing is any indication of success. This week they are putting the finishing touches to petitions bearing 150,000 signatures. They will present these to the secretary of the state next week in an effort to get an equal suffrage amendment to the constitution before the people at the November election. Women stopped at nothing to get signatures. One woman shoveled corn while the men were caused to sign through admiration. A score reported that they climbed to roofs to get carpenters.

ANOTHER WINTERS CLUE UNCOVERED

George Icnogle Brings to Cincinnati From Arkansas Note Signed by Catherine.

SAYS GIRL LOOKED LIKE HER

(By United Press.)
Cincinnati, O., July 24.—A note signed "Catherine Winters" and which was brought from Arkansas by George Icnogle was sent to Dr. W. A. Winters at Newcastle, Ind., today to determine whether the writing is similar to that of his daughter, who disappeared from home in March, 1913.

"I was walking along the tracks of the Iron Mountain railroad ten miles south of Little Rock, Arkansas, when a girl carrying a water bucket came up and asked if I had pencil and paper," Icnogle said.

"I gave her paper and pencil and she wrote this note: 'July 14, Little Rock, Arkansas: Papa please come and get me for I am well. Come or send for me. Signed Catherine Winters.'"

Icnogle said she gave him the note and as he was turning away two men in red shirts and corduroy trousers came from the side of the road and drove him away.

"I believe the men were gypsies, but the girl was fair skinned and had light hair."

When shown a picture of the missing Newcastle girl Icnogle said he was positive it was the picture of the girl who wrote the note.

MRS. E. P. WILKIE DIES AT WALDRON

Rushville Woman Who Has Been at Delos H. Thompson Home Expires of Cancer.

SHE LIVED HERE 24 YEARS

Funeral Will be Held at Waldron Sturday Morning at 10 O'clock. Her War Experiences.

Mrs. Emily P. Wilkie, age seventy-four years, until a little more than a year ago a resident of this city died at the Delos H. Thompson home for aged women at Waldron last night of cancer. This was the verdict of physicians although an autopsy was to be held today to determine exactly.

Mrs. Wilkie has been in poor health for some time, but her death was not expected. She went to the home soon after it was established and has been living there ever since. For a number of years Mrs. Wilkie lived at 734 North Perkins street.

She had no very near relatives living. The only survivors are a sister-in-law, Mrs. C. P. Allen, of East Eighth street and two nephews, Harry and Harvey Allen, in addition to a brother and sister, A. D. Allen and Mary Gerner of North Carolina.

Mrs. Wilkie was born in Davidson county, North Carolina, December 17, 1839. Her husband died many years ago and four children born to her died in early life. She came here about twenty-four years ago. The funeral will be held at Waldron tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

Mrs. Wilkie had a thrilling experience in 1864 when she, with her children, tried to escape from North Carolina, get through the confederate lines and find the safety of the union lines. Her husband was a confederate soldier and later a union soldier.

Mrs. Wilkie once wrote an interesting account of her escape when General Sherman was marching toward North Carolina and every resident of the state knew that it would be devastated. People of the state fled before General Sherman, preferring to leave every thing behind rather than be present when the union soldiers came. The account of her experiences was once published by a newspaper in North Carolina.

It was in the fall of 1863 that Mr. Wilkie, while he was working on a railroad that was being built in South Carolina for the use of confederate soldiers, made up his mind to join the confederate army again so that he could escape to the union lines. He joined and made good his escape without incident.

The next problem was to get his wife through the lines. She started out October 20, 1863, carrying her three-months-old baby with her. The confederate trains had no lights and she had to melt some tallow to make candles to provide a light during the trip.

Mrs. Wilkie had many harrowing experiences on the trip. At one time she had difficulty getting through confederate lines because it happened that the woman to whose home she said she was going was suspected of having strong union leanings. She finally reached the place, but while there several confederate soldiers stopped in.

Mrs. Wilkie was passing under her maiden name that of Allen. One day one of the soldiers told Mr. Wilkie's escape. This caused her to be very nervous and she had to leave the room for fear she would reveal her innermost thoughts. She left that place the next morning and finally

DIES AFTER FIVE MONTHS ILLNESS

Mrs. Theodore Abercrombie, Age Seventy-One Years, Expires This Afternoon at 2:30.

A PIONEER OF RUSH COUNTY

Born Where Christian Church Now Stands When All Land to North Was a Dense Forest.

Mrs. Sarah W. Abercrombie, wife of Theodore Abercrombie, died this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at her home, corner of Main and Eleventh streets, at the age of seventy-one years. She has been in failing health for some time. The immediate cause of her death was a disease of the blood vessels complicated with gangrene.

Mrs. Abercrombie was born in Rushville March 2, 1842 and was the daughter of Dr. Horatio Gates Sexton and Hannah Pugh Sexton. Dr. Sexton was a pioneer physician, settling in Rush county in 1821. The old Sexton homestead in which Mrs. Abercrombie was born was situated about where the Main Street Christian church now stands.

Mrs. Abercrombie was, with the exception of her half-brother, Cromer Sexton, who lives in Memphis, the last of a large family, she having survived her brothers Marshal, Leonidas and Oliver Sexton, and her sisters, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Abernathy, Mrs. Spalding and Mrs. Rush. Mrs. Abercrombie was married to Theodore Abercrombie March 25, 1869 and to this union four sons were born, Guy, Ned, John S. and Roy, all of whom, with the husband, are living in Rushville.

Mrs. Abercrombie, as a little girl, went to school in Rushville and later attended the Western College for Women at Oxford, O., and McLean's seminary in Indianapolis. To get to Oxford in those days, 1855-57, Miss Sexton had to drive through in a wagon, hauling her trunk with her, because there was no railroad.

Mrs. Abercrombie was a life-long member of the First Presbyterian church. She spent her entire life in Rushville. When Mrs. Abercrombie was a little girl all to the north of her home was a dense forest, the roads were of corduroy and her father visited his patients on horseback. Mrs. Abercrombie was a member of Carroll Scott Harrison chapter of the D. A. R. in Indianapolis.

Mrs. Abercrombie's life has always been devoted to her home, church and family. She has had many serious illnesses and has suffered much ill health the last twenty years, but she always has been a patient sufferer. She has been bed-fast for five months. She was practically an invalid for many months.

Scottsburg, Ind., July 24.—Dr. E. M. Wells, Progressive nominee for auditor of this city, announced today that he had returned to the Republican party.

Megee Bros. shipped to Indianapolis this morning two car loads of fine hogs.

J. Feudner writes from Denver that Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Frazee, who went to Denver for the Elks convention, left Wednesday morning for a two days' stay at Colorado Springs, from whence they expected to come home. Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kiplinger and sons were in Denver recently on their way to ranch in Wyoming. Mr. and Mrs. Frazee went with them to Wyoming and stayed a few days.

THUNDER SHOWERS NORTH

Rain Today But Drouth Continues in Other Parts of State.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 24.—Thunder showers with much lightning offered much relief today and did some damage in the vicinity of Fort Wayne, Auburn and Warsaw. Other parts of the state reported continuation of the drouth which is doing much damage. The weather man saw no relief today. Indications were a temperature of 100 degrees would be registered this afternoon.

MERCURY REACHES THE CENTURY MARK

Hottest Day of Year With One Exception and Still Weather Man Sticks to "Fair" Prediction.

RAIN IS NEEDED BADLY HERE

The "oldest inhabitant" today could see even more signs of rain, but the weather prophet stuck persistently to his prediction of "fair tonight and Saturday." In the meantime he evidently had lost the hot weather plug and was running wide open. Street temperatures of a hundred were recorded today and many places in the residence district, the mercury soared up to ninety-eight. There has been but one warmer day this year. That was a week ago last Sunday when a temperature of 106 was recorded.

Rush county farmers are looking for rain because it is badly needed. The ground is baked and vegetation is beginning to feel the effects of the hot sun day after day. Lawns here in the city show the lack of moisture. The grass is dying.

ROAD BONDS WERE NOT SOLD TODAY

Hitch Resulted When Bids Were Opened Because Some Thought They Expired in 20 Years.

ISSUE AMOUNTED TO $24,520

At a late hour this afternoon the bond issue amounting to $24,520 for the construction of the Walter Bitner road in Center township, had not been sold by County Treasurer Will McBride due to a misunderstanding among the bidders. Several of the Indianapolis bond houses bid on the issue thinking they were twenty year bonds when as a matter of fact the issue is for ten years. The people's National bank and the Rush County National bank of this city bid on the bonds for the ten year issue, while several other bids were received calling for twenty years. Treasurer McBride has not decided just how the question would be settled but it may be that the issue will be re-advertised.

The funeral services of Mrs. Harry Richardson were held this afternoon in the Second Methodist church. Burial took place in East Hill cemetery.

Mart Spivey was elected banker last night by the Modern Woodmen to fill the unexpired term of Elmer Drake, who recently moved to West Virginia.

ROB. WAGONER, AGE 76, IS DEAD

Well Known Stockman, Farmer and Veterinary Surgeon Expires at Home in Orange Township.

PARALYSIS IS THE CAUSE

Is Survived by a Widow, Three Children, Three Sisters and Two Brothers—Funeral Tomorrow.

Robert Wagoner, 76 years old, a well known farmer and stockman and for many years a veterinary surgeon of this county, died yesterday afternoon at four-thirty o'clock, at his home in Orange township. Death was caused by paralysis after a three weeks' illness. His condition had been critical for the last few days and death was not unexpected.

Mr. Wagoner was born on February 17, 1838, on a farm near where he died, and he lived his entire life in Orange township, with the exception of three years that he resided in Waldron, Shelby county. For over thirty years he practiced veterinary surgery.

He was married on September 29, 1856 to Harriett Kelley, with whom he lived fifty-eight years. He was a member of the Methodist church. Besides his widow he is survived by three children, Hanigan W. Wagoner, residing near the home of his parents, Billy Wagoner of Shelbyville, and Miss Audie Wagoner. He is also survived by two brothers, Hayden Wagoner, of Shelby county, and James Wagoner of Orange township, and three sisters, Mrs. Bushby, of Butler county, Illinois, Mrs. Benjamin Simpson, of Waldron, and Miss Sallie Wagoner, of Blue Ridge.

The funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the Vienna Methodist church by the Rev. J. T. Scull of Moscow, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Lewis of St Paul. Burial will take place in the church cemetery.

BROTHER-IN-LAW DEAD.

W. A. Jones of this city received word today that his brother-in-law, Dan Sellers, died last night in Indianapolis. Mr. Sellers was nearly seventy-five years old and death was expected at any time. The funeral will be held Sunday and Mr. and Mrs. Jones will attend.

Summer Advertising

Sales naturally go down in summer time because cheaper things are used and there are fewer wants to be satisfied.

But wise storekeepers realize they can utilize the warm weather to build business.

A customer who has a small summer need well satisfied is apt to remember it and return later when desires are more important.

Up-to-date merchants go after business in a definite, aggressive way in the "dull months."

Evidence of this progressive spirit will be found in the advertising in today's Daily Republican.

The men whose names are printed there want business and they intend to make their advertising pay by supplementing it with good service.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Smoke FAIR PROMISE 5c Cigars

Amusements

The Princess offers a two reel feature "Ashes of Hope" for the first picture tonight. Francis X. Bushman and Ruth Stonehouses are featured. It is a story of the stage made up of beautiful scenes and dramatic situations. The story is said to be very interesting and is full of human interest. The other is a Lubin drama entitled "The Wallflower." Tomorrow night Norma Talmadge and Leo Delaney will be seen in "Miser Murray's Wedding Present."

Tonight, the Gem will show "Beneath the Mask" a two part Imp. In this picture we have a play of today—a romance, and its scenes are laid in an American metropolis. If you are among those who imagine that there is no romance in this country of ours you should not fail to see this picture. Ethel Grandin is seen in the leading role. It is a big human interest story wherein a society girl is suddenly thrust into poverty, only to be lifted out again by an American, who while being rich, cares nought for position and loves her for herself. The various incidents, climatic in themselves, concerned in this story are woven into a drama that grips the interest from beginning to end. "The counts Infatuation" is also a good comedy. Tomorrow the fifth series of Lucille Love will be shown. In this series Lucille comes in contact with the monkey-men in the sunken village.

GWYNNEVILLE FIRE CAUSES $400 LOSS

Frame House Belonging to Mrs. Ann Addison Burns to Ground Early in the Morning.

SHE IS AWAKENED BY SMOKE

The frame house owned by Mrs. Ann Addison, in Gwynneville, was destroyed by fire at an early hour yesterday morning. Most of the household goods were saved and the loss on the house was about four hundred dollars. Mrs. Addison was awakened from her sleep by the smoke and found the entire rear part of the house in flames. The origin of the fire, which is believed to have started in the kitchen, is not known.

No effort was made to put out the flames and all exertion was directed towards keeping the fire from spreading. Mrs. Addison is past 60 years of age and was very fortunate in escaping with her life. The house was very old and in poor condition.

It's Very Easy Now for Husband to See If Wife Is "Toeing" the Mark

BY MARGARET MASON

(Written for the United Press)

This little pig went to market
This little pig stayed at home
This little pig had a tango
This little pig had none
But each little pig you could see, see see

All the way home.

New York, July 24.—It's a case of some feet and some feat the way the girls are all showing their piggies these days. Sticking to the vernacular, it's not a scream, it's a squeal. Responsible for the overexposed effect are slippers cut so low in the vamp as to be veritable sandals, except for the fact that they are stilted up on heels more replete with inches than the rest of the shoe is with feet. Worn over stockings so thin as to be a snare and a delusion, the result is that not the least wiggle of a little toe is lost to a keen observer. With these décolleté footcoverings or more properly speaking, foot uncoverings, it will be a simple matter to decide whether or not my lady is toeing the mark this season. Any way you look at them, however, they would verily seem to be the extremes of Fashion.

Leaping lightly to another fashionable extremity, we have with us today the newest head gear for the giddy golfer, tantalizing tennis devotee, or merry motorist maid. It is an oblong of closely woven silk, bordered on all four edges with a brilliant hued Roman striped band, and slightly fringed on each end. It comes in all the smart bright shades of purple, emerald, cerise, peacock blue, orange or black, and is fitly dubbed La Gitana, which common or gardenly means "the Gypsy." It is deftly manipulated into a fetching cap by putting it over the head, not in the middle of the oblong, but a third of the way from one fringed end. The Roman striped band on the front side is then brought low on the forehead and the short and long ends given a slight twist, brought tightly to the left side and tied in a true Gypsy knot over a rosy ear. With a stray curl or two escaping below the Roman band about the face, the effect is truly bewitching and La Gitana has the practical grace as well, of keeping your coiffure beautifully in place no matter how strenuous the game or how speed regulation smashing the spin. With true gypsy like witchery the La Gitana may be snatched from your head at a moments notice and deftly twisted about your waist, to become a stunning girdle in best predestigiter manner. No summer girl should be without one.

Another Romany like headdress for the evening gypsy queen, rather than the Gitana of daytime sports, is a band of ever twinkly and vibrating jewels suspended from tiny chains that dangle low over the forehead. Hair is still done high and the simple coiffure is the most approved but as a sop to the eternal feminine fancy for ornateness is given the concession of many quaint trimmings for the evening head. Feathers particularly are much flaunted and an effect wierd enough to be hailed as a chef d'oeuvre of smartness is obtained by wearing a black velvet band low on the forehead, over which strands of Paradise dangle down well over the eyes. Wide plain bands of vivid hued velvets are also much affected, worn down almost over one eye in a decidedly disconcerting manner.

Among other new and amazing fad accessories of the evening toilette is a ruche of much fluted tulle flaring about the ears from a tiny black velvet neck band. These worn with the extreme décolleté corsage of the moment seem a reversion to modesty at the wrong point.

Then there is the penchant for the wearing of a single artificial blossom, high on the left shoulder fastened to a bit of illusion or lace which poses as both shoulder strap and sleeve, and the wearing of a long loosely wrinkling suede glove of cafe au lait to the utter exclusion of the erstwhile approved white glace ones.

Prenatal Influences

Parental influence has been the subject of many discussions. Never did such a pronounced case in favor of the argument come to the public's attention as has just been brought to light. Lawrence Robinson, a native of Washington Court House, Ohio, wanted for a triple murder, shot Inspector Norton in a Boston cafe a month ago and his trial was in progress this week, when, Wednesday morning in his cell he com-

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat, which clogs
Kidneys, then Back hurts and Bladder bothers you.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

mitted suicide by cutting his throat with the steel shank of his shoe.

Following the suicide, it developed that Robinson's mother was ready to bare her life's secret to save her son from the electrical chair. Her deposition was taken to be read at the trial of her son, but it was never heard by the jury. The statement read as follows:

"Realizing that it may have the effect of mitigating the rigor of the law in its action against my boy, I am willing that it should be known that he is subject to forces he cannot control. Before he was born I harbored a hatred toward his father that amounted to thoughts of murder. I showed this by getting a pistol, keeping it loaded, and having it always near me. I feel sure I would have used it if I had the opportunity.

"Five months before my boy was born I knew I had been deceived. At times I was on the verge of insanity. I hoped and told others that I wished I might die. I shrank from all friends and acquaintances, and the boy all his life has shown the same disposition. I feel sure the disposition was impressed upon him before birth. In his boyhood he had spells of melancholia, when he would wander alone through the country, avoiding associates. He used to tell me he could not help it.

"I am sure he got from me a disposition to kill that he may not be able to control. It was not until a few years ago that I eradicated this feeling from my heart, although the boy's father has been dead for many years. I am his mother."

Encouraging Home Industries

A public-spirited citizen who is at the head of a great manufacturing enterprise in a small city issued orders that all printing and stationary supplies used by the concern should be purchased from the local printer and stationary dealer and said:

"Why should we spend our money to help build up an industry in another city while at the same time trying to secure new industries for our own city? Let us build up and foster the industries we have and other will come."

He had the right idea. There was little inducement for a new industry to locate in a town where the largest buyers send away for their needs. Some of the largest industries, in the country had very modest beginnings, but probably would never have grown or expanded without the loyal support of the home people. Our city can build up and our enterprises increase if our people follow the plan of the above mentioned "big man in a little town."

wholesome way, and carry away some knowledge and ideas, which is contained, like the pinch of elixir, under a sugar coating.

The great majority of people cannot go in for higher education. School ends early with most people, and they settle down to hard work for life, with few opportunities to study or travel, or get in real touch with the big wide world. Every one admires a big broad man, of wide experience and knowledge. One can acquire breadth and culture by meeting and hearing such men. Books alone can not make a man of wide interests. The Chautauqua provides a means of acquiring this general culture that nothing else can give as quickly. The men and women who talk there are persons of this sort, and contact with them cannot fail to leave some touch of what is big and good and wholesome. The subjects discussed range from practical farm talks to psychology, from home problems to higher criticism, from politics to the north pole, couched in terms of universal sympathy, and spiced with the wit whose "taste lingers." Sandwiched between are splendid readings, convicted humorists "doing time," both classical and unclassified, trained animals, and—well, anything good you like.

There may be found a liberal education. Go, and when you return home, think deep thoughts, renovate your religion, marvel at scientific wonders, weep at some touching history, smile at some clever quip, or thrill with the glory of some man's achievements—think or rest your mind, laugh or cry, thrill or be comforted, you may have your choice. It is worth going far to hear. Surely the Chautauqua is well called "The People's University."

You may not care for all the lectures. Neither do we. If you want knowledge, it is there in easily digested form, taught by the men who compiled it; if you want more entertainment, it is there, clean, refreshing, wholesome, entertainment that you will remember as you remember no other form; if you want social pleasures, there you will find more people together, for a longer time than at any other time during the year, under the trees, at leisure; if you want rest, there is comfort and ease, with the other things added without extra cost; if you are merely a curious person, you may see more wonders at the Chautauqua than at the circuses. Take your choice. The cost is only nominal, and the good it will do you will repay you many fold your expense and trouble.

Rushville has as strong a Chautauqua in point of talent as any in this region. We are used to the best, and we shall get it. Experience has made our directors wise in their selections, and you can't be disappointed in the program. Go when you please, but go.

A talk on the Chautauqua would not be complete without a word of commendation for the community loving men and women who, without salary, give time and labor to make a success of such a large undertaking. They are unselfish, and we should all show our appreciation by attending. Make this the greatest Chautauqua ever held here, and give the directors the wherewithal to grow even better next year.

Say to your neighbor, "I'll see you at Chautauqua," and then do it.

YOUNG MEN WILL ORGANIZE CLUB

Will be Named for Republican
Candidate for Secretary of State,
But Will Boost Whole Ticket

THE PLAN OF ORGANIZATION

Chairmen in Each County Who Are Already Named Will Perfect
Organization by Counties

A movement is under way for the formation of a state-wide Jackson club to be composed of young men and first voters to boost for the Republican state and county tickets in the coming campaign. Jack Higgins of Newcastle, chairman of the Sixth District Young Men's Movement, has received word from State Chairman Will H. Hays that a meeting of the thirteen chairmen will be held in Indianapolis next Tuesday at the Severin Hotel at which time it is expected that the organization will be perfected.

Albert Capp is the chairman of the Young Men's Movement in this county and it is expected that he will call a meeting soon and the club formed here. Each of the county chairmen will appoint three men in each township to assist in his organization work and each county chairman will work under the district chairman.

While the club will be known as the Jackson club, it will not only work for the election of Ed Jackson, for secretary of state, but will pull for the election of the entire Republican ticket in Indiana. In the Sixth district the club will boost the candidacy of P. J. Lynch for congress.

Already in other counties in this district the club is being formed and the young men of the Republican party are taking hold of the movement in a way to insure success. The club will be formed in Henry county next Monday night.

In each of the twelve townships in the county an organization will be perfected and it is planned to hold a monster parade in Indianapolis during state fair week. Every young man connected with the movement will be asked to go to Indianapolis and participate in the parade. It is the intention to show the Democrats that the young men of the state are with the Republican party because they know where they have protection and where they can help the country just when they want it.

The various county chairmen of the Young Men's Movement in the Sixth district are as follows: Geo. Starr, Fayette; George Fosyer, Franklin; Ora Myers, Hancock; G. Walter Ratcliffe, Henry; Albert Capp, Rush; Glendon Hackney, Shelby; Orville Miller, Union, and Preston Coggeshall, Wayne.

MUNCIE TEAM COMING TO WIN TWO COUNTRIES ON VERGE OF WAR

Manger Davidson's Bunch Will Have to Play Ball if They Get Away With This One.

ARCADIANS FACE HARD GAME

Amos Byrd Will be on Mound For Visitors and Will be Opposed by Heller or Fox.

One of the best games of the season is expected Sunday when the Muncie Shamrocks come here to play the Arcadians. The Muncie team has been playing great ball and with Amos Byrd pitching the contest should be a good one. The Muncie team is a guaranteed attraction, and is deserving of good support.

So far the Arcadians have been winning with ease and the contest Sunday will give the fans a line on how the team really stands. The Muncie team lost to Newcastle last Sunday 2 to 1 and the first direct line on the relative strength of these two teams will be shown in this game. The victory of Newcastle was very lucky as that team succeeded in getting only one hit off Byrd, the Muncie pitcher.

The management here intends to give the fans the best of attractions and no matter what teams wins it will be a ball game. Manager Davidson will use his regular lineup, with Heller and Goodfellow doing the battery work. Lefty Fox will be held in reserve and will relieve Heller if needs be. The Muncie team is a well balanced organization and with Amos Byrd, the southpaw in the box, will make any team play to win. The team will line up as follows here Sunday: W. Lacey, third; E. Lacey, right; King, second; Wills, first; Love, center; Voit, left; Masters, short; Gaughorn, catch, and Byrd, pitch.

The game will be called at 2:30 in order that the visitors can catch an early train to Muncie. Poston will umpire as usual.

Austria and Servia Near Conflict Today Because of Assassination of Ferdinand.

FORMER SENDS AN ULTIMATUM

Calls on Servia to Suppress Pan-Servian Movement and Punish the Guilty Persons.

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Germany, July 24.—Austria and Servia are today upon the verge of the conflict which has been expected by all Europe since the assassination of the Arch Duke Ferdinand. An ultimatum has been received at Belgrade, calling upon the Servian government to suppress the pan-Servian movement and punish those responsible for the assassination. Servia may refuse to comply with the demand. A reply must be made by six o'clock tomorrow.

Austria has made all preparations for war.

The attitude of the German government was today outlined to the United Press in a statement from the foreign office as follows:

"If war is declared Germany will do everything possible to confine it to Austria and Servia. Germany will keep hands off, but should another power seek to interfere, Germany will promptly fulfill its duty as an ally."

Unless Servia backs down from the expressed intention of refusing to comply with the demands of Austria, Europe will see the beginning of a world war. This opinion was freely expressed today in governmental, military and diplomatic circles. The unprecedented demands of Austria and the sharpness of the note addressed to Belgrade struck Berlin as a thunderclap and caused the greatest amazement.

VILLA ENLARGES ARMY DIVISION

Apprehension Felt For Fear he May be Preparing to Enforce His Demands of Carranza.

WILL EQUAL ALL DIVISIONS

(By United Press.)

Chihuahua, Mexico, July 24.—Scores of officers from General Villa's army were dispatched today to all sections of the state to enlist every available fighting man so that Villa's division will equal in strength all other divisions combined when the Constitutionalists enter Mexico City. Special inducements are made to Mexicans to join Villa's army.

Thies is viewed with apprehension by many who believe Villa is preparing to open hostilities if he does not receive what he demands after General Carranza takes over Mexico City.

POINTS TO BULL MOOSE PROGRAM

Prof. Elbert Russell, Progressive Nominee in Sixth District Speaks at Catholic Carnival.

DEMOS. GET BOARDS TONIGHT

Russell Says New Party Has Program For Three Distinctive Things in American Life.

That the Progressive party has a program for three distinct things was the assertion of Prof. Elbert Russell, head of Biblical department in Earlham college and Progressive nominee for congress, at the Catholic carnival last night. He was the representative of the first of three parties which will be heard at the carnival. The Democrats are to-night and the Republicans tomorrow night.

People are not very much interested in the great outdoor sport of politics this hot weather, as was indicated by the lack of interest in the address last night. About half of the people on the grounds gathered in front of the speaker's stand and the remainder rode the merry-go-round or found some other diversion.

Prof. Russell pointed to the great industrial development in America. He recalled that a vast empire had been conquered in a century. In this respect, he said, the Progressive party is the party that realizes old conditions are gone and that we face new conditions such as our forefathers never faced. He declared that a laboring man's work depends on another man's consent and that was one of the reasons the Progressive party has a program of industrial and social justice. In this connection he told the audience that the Rumley company of Richmond threw 700 men out of employment because they could not help it. They could find no market for their product he said. The speaker merely cited this and other cases of industrial inactivity in Richmond to prove the contention that whether the laboring man has a job depends on the employers' consent.

Prof. Russell said the resources of the country are now all in private hands and that the only way to protect the people is to say to the owner of the resources that he shall not charge exorbitant prices. Prof. Russell said this was the problem of conservation and that the Progressive party knows the situation and has a program for it.

"The Progressive party believes in popular government," continued the Progressive nominee. "We have to have a scheme of government so as to elect men who will represent you. That's why we favor initiative, referendum and recall. Too often you can not be represented on all the things you believe in by your representative. By the use of these measures you can get what you want."

In closing Prof. Russell said Indiana has men who have put the Hoosier state on the map, but he asked the audience to call the roll in congress now and see if any of them are big men leading in the affair of the nation. He said he was not here to tell of his own ability, that that would have to be learned elsewhere, but he asked that Beveridge be sent to the senate and himself to congress from the sixth district and then Indiana, he asserted, would be placed on the map.

The minstrel show was repeated last night and played to two packed audiences. The crowd on the grounds was believed to be larger than any night yet. All of the stands did a big business, especially the fancy work booth.

Tonight the comedy, "Frank Glynn's Wife," which was given by the dramatic club of St. Mary's Wednesday night, will be repeated. The exchange will be conducted to-night by the Third ward section of the Altar society under the leadership of Mrs. E. M. Osborne and Mrs.

Nellie Abercrombie. The exchange will be open on Saturday night from five o'clock on.

Tonight will be Democratic night. Finly Gray, the nominee for congress, will be unable to be present because of pressing business at Washington, but he will be represented by his brother, Judge George L. Gray, who is considered an able stump speaker.

The carnival management is disposed to feel kindly toward the weather man for the kind of weather program he has been serving.

MRS. E. P. WILKIE DIES AT WALDRON

reached the shelter of the union lines after many hardships. She was united with her husband, who later became a soldier.

All through her glowing account, Mrs. Wilkie showed herself a staunch unionist although she was of southern birth.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't stay gray! Nobody can tell when you darken gray, faded hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.
